

VIENNA IS EXPECTED TO REJECT DEMANDS IN A PROMPT REPLY TO THE SECOND NOTE

Despatches From Austro-Hungarian Capital Indicate American Restrictions Are Not To Be Heeded by Dual Monarchy

PREMIER VON BURIAN GOES TO BERLIN FOR CONFERENCE

United States, In 'Final Word,' Says There Is Nothing More To Debate Regarding Sinking of the Liner Ancona

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, December 23.—Despatches from Vienna announce that an early reply to the second American note regarding the sinking of the Italian liner Ancona may be expected, probably within two days. This, coupled with the announcement that Baron von Burian, the Austro-Hungarian minister of foreign affairs, will probably go to Berlin for a conference before despatching the reply of the Austrian government, is taken here as an indication that the American demands, coupled with the refusal of the Washington state department to either explain or discuss them further, are to be summarily rejected.

Washington To Firm
The American reply to the Austrian request for legal maxima upholding the American contention that the sinking of the Ancona was illegal and indefensible, and the suggestion that the various notes to the Austrians regarding the sinking of the liner should be considered as showing Austria's knowledge of the general American position regarding the rights of Americans to travel in safety on any passenger ship, is said to be peremptory.

Demands Are Rejected
The reply of the United States declares that the official admission of the Austrian admiral that the liner was torpedoed after it had stopped and when passengers were still aboard, is alone sufficient for America to demand discovery, reparation and punishment of the commander. Reiterating the demand for immediate redress, the note says that the details to which Austria has referred are not essential and that debate on the matter is uncalled for.

COAST OFFICIALS SEIZED GLUCOSE

Chemists Help Save Faces of Customs Men Who Saw Their Duty

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
SAN FRANCISCO, December 23.—Chemists who have analyzed the contents of sample tins of the opium seized on the T. K. K. Seiyu Maru declare that the substance is glucose and not opium. The seized cases have accordingly been returned to the ship.

AUTHORITY IS QUESTIONED

The probable explanation of the Seiyu Maru seizure and the subsequent return of the cases declared on the ship's manifest to contain opium, is that the customs authorities at San Francisco have suddenly awakened to the truth that they had no legal authority for the seizure and have subsequently hustled the opium back to the steamer and saved their faces by announcing that "chemists declare it to be glucose."

That the Seiyu Maru would be carrying 7000 five-ounce tins of glucose to Mexico from Hongkong, and would enter a protest at Washington over its seizure, appears to be far-fetched.

Quotations from the Australian press, cabled here, show the Australian attitude, one leading paper of the Colonies quoting from Lincoln's Gettysburg Address these words:

"That we here highly resolve that these dead shall not have died in vain.

"That this nation, under God, shall have a new birth of Freedom."

HAMBURG - AMERICAN AGENT

Von Papen Says He Only Did His Duty and Sails For Home

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
NEW YORK, December 23.—On the eve of the sailing of Capt. Franz von Papen, the German military attaché recalled at the repeated request of the United States, agents of the department of justice placed under arrest Edmund Justice, employed as a watchman by the Hamburg-American Company, whom officials declare furnishes the missing link connecting up the Hamburg-American Company as the direct agent of the German government in the violations of American neutrality.

Specific Charge Conspiracy
Justice was arrested, it is said, in connection with the case already under way against Paul Koenig, who was at the head of the secret service bureau of the steamship company. The specific charge against Koenig and his associates is that they entered into a conspiracy to blow up the locks of the Welland Canal, in Ontario.

That the German government was cognizant of this conspiracy and that the alleged conspirators, acting as the agents of the Hamburg-Americans, were carrying out the plans of German government officials, is the direct charge now officially made.

Von Papen Sails Away
Captain von Papen sailed yesterday on the Dutch liner Noordam. In a brief statement made before the steamer left, the attaché, who became persona non grata through his activities said to be connected with the various "war plots" in the United States, declared that he feels no bitterness toward Americans. He says that he is glad of the opportunity to fight in the trenches. The history of the war, he declared, will show that he did his duty.

TWO TORPEDO BOATS CAPTURE AUSTRIAN

Japanese Liner Sunk By German Submarine In Mediterranean On First Trip

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
PARIS, December 23.—The Havas Agency correspondent at Malta reports that an Austrian submarine, operating off Malta, was yesterday captured by two torpedo boats, presumably Italian. Earlier in the day, a German submarine torpedoed and sank a Japanese steamer, the second to be destroyed by submarines in the Mediterranean. This vessel was sunk in the Eastern Mediterranean.

The reports give the name of the steamer as the Sada Maru. No steamer of this name is listed, but there is a Sada Maru, which sailed from Seattle on December 4 and which was last reported at Hongkong.

It is possible that the steamer sunk is the new Japanese steamer, Yashika Maru, which sailed on her maiden voyage from London on November 15. A Reuter despatch, without announcing the cause of the loss, says: "The Yashika sank within forty-five minutes after being struck. There were no fatalities."

WOMAN HIT BY AUTO STILL UNCONSCIOUS

Physician Believes Mrs. Moore Has Good Chance To Recover From Injuries

Mrs. G. H. Moore, who was injured last Monday when she was run down by an automobile in Nuuanu Valley, is still in a serious condition and has not regained consciousness. Dr. H. V. Murray, who is attending her, does not think she is in danger of death and is of the opinion that she has improved considerably since being removed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Carvalho, at 1631 Liliha street, where she was taken from the emergency hospital.

Her condition is that of any one suffering from a serious concussion of the brain and it may be a couple of days before she regains her senses," said Dr. Murray last night.

Miss Dorothy Spring, who was the driver of the car which caused the accident, is a sister-in-law of Mrs. C. C. Condit, with whom she is stopping at Waikiki. She explains the neglect of herself and Dorcas Peden, who was with her to state, when Mrs. Moore was struck, by saying that she did not know the car had struck any one but thought it had hit a bump in the road.

UNWITNESSED WILL MAY NOT BE VALID

Petition Filed In Court For Probate of Lieutenant-Colonel Bromwell's Estate

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
BLOOMINGTON, ILLINOIS, December 23.—The body of the late Colonel Bromwell, who shot himself at his home in Honolulu is expected to arrive here tomorrow. Arrangements have been made for funeral services to be held on Sunday.

Lieut. Col. Charles S. Bromwell, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., who committed suicide in this city on December 10, left all his property to his mother, sister, wife, son and daughter, after providing for a number of minor bequests. The will was made by the deceased army officer the day before he took his life and is unwitnessed, on which account it may be held illegal under the laws of the Territory. Its illegality is taken for granted by the executors mentioned in the instrument and who, yesterday, filed in the circuit court a petition in behalf of Mrs. Letitia Bromwell, widow of the deceased, asking for the probate of the will.

The petition, under which Col. Frederick P. Reynolds, U. S. A., and Walter P. Dillingham seek to be appointed administrators of the estate, sets forth that the local estate of the deceased is valued at $10,000, consisting of $1,000 in bank and stocks, bonds and other personal property of the value of $9,000. The ages of the two children of the deceased are given in the petition, as follows: Son, the son-in-law, years, and Mildred, the daughter, sixteen years.

The will, which was drafted in person by the late Lieutenant-Colonel Bromwell, reads as follows:

"I hereby bequeath to my dear Mother and my sister Maude jointly all stocks, bonds and real estate belonging to me and all money on deposit to my credit in the Eucled Avenue Bank, Cleveland, one-half of the money on deposit to my credit in the First National Bank, Honolulu.

"The other half on deposit to my credit in the First National Bank shall be used in paying my funeral expenses and personal debts and $100 shall be paid Louis Faust as a remembrance from me and the balance shall be given to a worthy charity.

"To Scott Bromwell, my dear son, I leave my class ring, my books and jewelry.

"To Mildred Bromwell, my beloved daughter, I leave an oil painting of my self by Emil Fuchs.

"To my beloved wife I leave all the rest of my property of whatever kind and wherever located. I request that she make suitable gifts as remembrances from me to relatives and friends.

"I further request that Col. Fred P. Reynolds and Mr. Walter Dillingham act as executors to see that the general provisions of this will are carried out."

"CHAS. S. BROMWELL.
Honolulu, T. H., Dec. 9, 1915."

SEA YIELDS SNAKE ON WINDWARD OAHU

Reptile Very Rare In This Latitude Causes a Koolau Sensation

This is a snake story, and as witness of the fact that there is at least one really, truly alive snake on Oahu with yellow rings on his tail, there are John A. McDaniel, Paul Mahlenhoff, E. K. Bull and others. To make the report conclusive, they saw the snake when out on a water inspection tour. Anyone who doubts after that is not worth convincing.

The snake was caught in the sea on the windward side of the island four days ago. It is about thirty inches long, dark gray in color for the greater part, with curious yellow mottlings around the last four inches of tail, markings which induced Jorgen Jorgensen to exclaim, when he first saw it wriggling along the road: "Holy mackerel! A rattlesnake!"

The man who owned the snake gathered it up while a curious crowd examined it yesterday, several automobiles stopping at the point on the windward side, not far from the Federal Wireless plant, where the unique marine reptile was on view. It was evident that the creature was not an eel, but a true snake, with teeth and a forked tongue. The proud owner skinned back the lips to show the teeth, while the forked tongue was taken on faith. That it is not a land snake was shown by the shape of the body, the thickness from back to belly being greater than from side to side, with the under side of the reptile the same color as the back. Land snakes have flat bellies and the coloring of the body does not extend to the underneath scales.

The snake was quite at home on land, however, crawling over the road in approved snake fashion. The owner stated that the snake had been three days out of its native element, but was quite lively. It is equally at home in fresh or salt water. When placed in water, it dove to the bottom of the receptacle and being timed, stayed under water for twenty-two minutes before coming up for air.

"The natives along this beach say they never saw one of these before," said the man who had caught it. He was advised to send the snake to Professor Bryan, which he said he would do.

Professor Bryan last night stated that there are at least two instances in recent years of the capture of an snake in Hawaiian waters. These snakes are rarely found north of the equator, although south of the line they are very common. The few found here have been storm driven from their homes.

BULGARS PURSUE ENTENTE FORCES INTO GREECE: NO MOVE BY ATHENS

Berlin Announced Balkan Ally of Austro-Germans Will Operate Only Along Railroad Line Leading To Base At Salonika

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, December 23.—An invasion of Greece by the Bulgars is reported in Berlin, according to despatches by way of Copenhagen, and there is speculation there concerning the attitude which Greece will take in view of this move.

GRECIAN PREMIER SAYS HIS NATION IS ANGRY

Lack of Frankness On Part of Entente Powers in Dealing With Constantine Turned Sympathy Away From Their Cause

(Associated Press by Federal Wireless.)
LONDON, December 23.—An indication that Greece will not move, even in the event that the Berlin despatches are confirmed, is given in an interview granted yesterday by Premier Skoufoudis to the Athens representative of the London Chronicle, who questioned the Premier as to his attitude, now that he has secured a large majority of the deputies to sustain him in parliament.

"Had the Allies been frank with Greece in the first place, it is certain that Greece would not have hesitated," he said. "Greece has been attempting to shape her policy in the war that there would be no bloodshed in Greece, Macedonia, but the Allies malign the attitude of Greece and angered the nation. Then, in the face of reverses, the Allies demanded that Greece should make sacrifices that of territory and then of her subjects."

TEUTONS POINT TO GALLIOLI

Despatches from various sources represent the Germans as taking advantage of the British withdrawal from Gallipoli by using the moral effect of the retirement to influence Greece and Rumania to the Teuton cause. The evacuation is being pointed to as an illustration of the weakness of the Allies.

There has been no official confirmation of the despatches announcing the full of the Bulgarian part of Varna, but it is generally believed here that the press despatches are correct and that Russia is already landing a strong army from Odessa for the carrying out of a campaign against Constantinople.

This move on the part of the Teutons attempts to point to the evacuation of the Gallipoli as evidence of the weakness of the Allies against the Turks.
